

Session 2

10:15 – 11:00 am

Berkley:

Inquire Within: Smithsonian Learning Lab, an Online Toolkit for Discovering, Creating, and Sharing Knowledge

Susan Schmidt – Media Assistant, Wood Acres ES, Montgomery Co.

Stephanie Norby – Director, Smithsonian Center for Learning and Digital Access

Michelle K. Smith – Associate Director for Media, Smithsonian Center

The Learning Lab offers access to a million authentic primary and secondary sources—Smithsonian images, recordings, and texts—plus tools for customizing them. Take learners from finding resources to using critical skills for thoughtful selection and organization, and ultimately, the expression of new understandings of lasting knowledge.

All

Session materials: https://drive.google.com/open?id=1xPDF11P_KO28OATxETr2LdTryjQcH-MX4w1P1bzC6rU

Franklin:

Overcoming Barriers

Angie Miller – New Hampshire librarian, consultant, and freelance writer

A discussion addressing the traditional barriers faced by school librarians today.

ALL

Session materials:

Crystal Room:

How to Really Lead from the Library

Lauren Magnuson – Library Media Specialist, Kenwood High School, Baltimore Co.

Join a facilitated discussion on how to really lead from the library. Learn practical, doable ideas that will increase your influence in your school. Brainstorm what LMSs should be doing now to ensure that our spaces and jobs remain a vital part of the school.

MS/HS/Pre-Serv

Session materials:

<https://drive.google.com/open?id=1REmHLp8Oq77VGqQOkwYbfV1YmZAwptTKWF93WH11CI>

Turner:

Open Education Librarians: Bulldoze the Playing Field

Tamara Carr – School Media Specialist, Lake Forest HS, Felton, DE

Lauren Adams – Librarian, WT Chipman MS, Harrington, DE

Abby Moore – Head of Research and Instructional Services, UNC Charlotte

Open education librarians don't simply curate OERs (open education resources). We partner with school members, leading our communities to quality OER content, intending to spark their imaginings, interests and encourage exploration. Join the conversation and hear stories about using OERs to enhance lessons, libraries, and improve students' futures.

ALL

Session materials:

<https://drive.google.com/open?id=1REmHLp8Oq77VGqQOkwYbfV1YmZAwptTKWF93WHI1CI>

Shenendoah:

Digiwise: Citizenship for the 21st Century

Jennifer A. Siderius – Media Specialist, New Market ES, Frederick Co.

April Walthen – Teacher Librarian, G.W. Carver ES, St. Mary's Co.

Laura Hicks – Media Specialist, Frederick HS, Frederick Co.

Join this presentation for a look at curated digital citizenship resources and advocacy opportunities! The team, who wrote a digital citizenship action plan at the Maryland Teacher Leadership Summit, will share how you can help embed digital citizenship across the curriculum. Give us feedback so that your voice is represented!

ALL

Session materials: <https://drive.google.com/open?id=0B5ItSnWI73pKaEhzR1pfOU8zTjg> & <https://drive.google.com/open?id=1Lbt16GrdXBhE8elxkV65aoteEXSZxTyj3IOVRbSPMFM>

Crystal Ballroom:

How Did I Get Here?: The Storied Lives and Untold Secrets of Our MASL16 Authors

Matthew Winner - Facilitator

Join us for a lively discussion of what it takes to be an author as told by authors themselves. Laugh and cheer along as our panel of authors shares the experiences that led them to writing for children and young adults. Session will include Q&A, games, and audience participation.

ALL

Session materials:

Grand Ballroom:

Library Space Revival

Pam Harland – New Hampshire librarian, consultant, presenter

A fast-moving discussion of the six steps it takes to get from a traditional library space to a user-centered relevant space.

ALL

Session materials: <http://www.pamlibrarian.com/masl-2016.html>